We can confidently recommend these bonds, as the annual report of the company for the year ending 30th September, 1880, showed that the company had reduced its debt over $450,000 dering the two preceding years, besides adding largely to its rolling stock and machinery, and purchasing 6.3th tons of new steel rails. For the seven months ending April 30, 1881, the net receipts of the company exceeded $240,000, which is equal to 6½ per cent, on the capital stock of the company, after the payment of interest, reuts, and all other fixed charges, and expending a large amount for equipment, steel rails, and at ditional work-shops.

The receipts of this company for carrying the mails for last April show an increase of over 106 per cent, over same mount of last sear, and for freight of 30 per cent. Previous to last of May 40 per cent, of the Atlants and Charlotte freight basiness went via the Car, thus Central railroad. Hundreds of People Here-What They are Doing-Personal-Honors Upon Rev. John Hannon-West Virginia Folks-Fine Dresses-Beaux in Demand-Stories of the Springs-Anecdote of Cheer for Newspaper Men-One of Dr. Lafferty's Best-Various Items and Notes-Facts and Fancies.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, July 19, 1881. There are hundreds of people here for their health, though few of these are con-fined to their rooms. Most of them join the crowd of pleasure-seekers and pass for well folks. This is particularly so with the men who are seeking to undo the work of overwork. Rest from business is a good thing; rest and cheerful society better. In the groups of men formed on the porch or under the shade of the trees THE STORY-TELLER has full scope for his genius. What is it that they do not talk about? The Garfield shooting, the Virginia debt, the Revised Testament, hotel-keeping, music, stocks, railroad enterprises—all these and a thousand other subjec s. Every fellow tries to tell what he knows and to conceal what he doesn't know. Sleeping, eating, drinking sulphur water, hearing or telling stories, walks, drives, ten-pins and lawn-tennis, getting and sending letters, gathering in the parlor immediately after supper and in the ball-room at 9 o'clock, about constitute the round here. There is fine dressing among the ladies, of course, but I doubt if they have unpacked their very best yet. One lady brought ten trunks. I hardly think she has opened more than eight as yet. The others are probably held in reserve, their conents to be used to dazzle when the crowd is at its greatest, as it will be in a week or home from the feast full as a tick.

By break of day his fat cook rose and saw the heavens raining stars. She rushed for the "great house," knocked the door open, and were of the fashionable stripes. Lawn-tennis continues a fashionable stripes. Lawn-tennis continues a fashionable pastime. It is a very mild exercise. There are many visitors from the North and West who are anxious to visit Richmond. Numbers of these say that they chiefly want to hear Rev. John Jasper. So the fame of our city spreads. Garber, who is doing the transfer business here also, has a four-horse noving towards Richmond and Yorktown. The Rev. Dr. John Hannon (who is at Dry Creek) is as vigorous a walker as he is a preacher. He has a long stride. SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. Dr. J. William Jones preached at the Methodist church; Sunday night at same place, Rev. Dr. Graham, of Winchester. Rev. Dr. Brank (Presbyterian), of St. Louis, preached in the ball-room Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Mason, of the Episcopal church, conducted services Sunday norning and afternoon in the reception-oom of the derôt. This reception-room s quite a nice place. If there is any such Richmond equal to it I forget where it is. There are a plenty of pretty girls-and not a few rich encs-here, but the supply of beaux is not yet quite equal to the de-mand. Still the dancing goes on at a lively rate every night. The girls make the best possible use of available material. Bridge, remain two hours, and return by

The time came, and he called on Brothers A, B, C, and D, and the responses were prompt, hearty, and full of gratitude for the blessings of every-day life in this happy land of ours. It was wonderful indeed how much there was that these brethren, in common with the people generally, had to be thankful for, and how long they had enjoyed the good things of life without thought of giving public expres-sion of their indebtedness therefor. After these four brethren had related their expeed disposed to speak. The pastor, unwilling that the successful undertaking should be brought to so abrure a king should
